Abstract:

Quality term becomes very important one for only special work or service where it extends to the development of the education sector through academic accreditation under Globalization. Academic accreditation contributes, through assurance of their output of quality in raising and developing of education sector and coping with the needs of world market and then in achieving development and economic development in societies. This study discusses the cognitive and economic motives seeking by all of education institution of quality assurance through affiliation with national and international accreditation council by depending on its standards for achieving Academic accreditation, finally this study discusses the American experiment in the field of Academic accreditation and quality assurance because its one of leading experiments in this field besides prominent Academic accreditation institutions.